

Waukesha A. of C.

Secretary Is Dead

Waukesha—B. A. Hoffman, 38, secretary of the Waukesha Association of Commerce and former city treasurer, died at 8 a. m. Monday.

Dies at Waukesha

B. A. Hoffman, secretary of the Waukesha Association of Commerce and former Milwaukee newspaper man, died Monday morning at the Spa, a Waukesha sanitarium, where he was taken a month ago.

following a short illness. He is survived by his wife and seven children, the oldest 12 and youngest 6, months old. They are Eunice, Bernard, Ruth, Jerome, James, Phillip and Mary Jeannette.

Mr. Hoffman was forced to resign as city treasurer one month ago because of ill health, but he retained his position as Association of Commerce secretary, expecting to take only a short leave of absence. He was suffering from Bright's disease.

Mr. Hoffman came to Waukesha from Milwaukee, where he was bureau manager for the United Press. He was manager of the Waukesha Freeman for several years. He was employed by The Milwaukee Journal for a short time and spent two years in Deiavan with a newspaper there. He returned to Waukesha three years ago as secretary of the Association of Commerce.

NAME PALLBEARERS FOR HOFFMAN FUNERAL

Announcement was made today of the pallbearers at the B. A. Hoffman funeral services which will be held on Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

The following are named: Chamber of Commerce, M. J. McCoy; Rotary, Roy Benjamin; City, Morgan Butler; Knights of Columbus, W. E. Graham, D. J. Hemlock, Walter Caldwell.

Honorary pallbearers are: Hugo Hoeveler, Thomas Murray, Dr. W. B. Campbell, Claude Roach and Edward Pfeffer.

*Dan Kenny
Waukesha Freeman
Feb 15th 1927*

Journal Feb 15-27

Waukesha

The Waukesha editorial offices of The Milwaukee Journal are in Room 8, National Bank bldg., telephone 81. Subscriptions are received by J. B. Christoph, 329 Main st., telephone 797.

Waukesha—Funeral services for B. A. Hoffman, secretary of the Association of Commerce, who died Monday morning at his home on McCall st., following a short illness, will be held at 8 a. m. Wednesday at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Msgr. William G. Miller officiating. M. J. McCoy of the Association of Commerce, Mayor Morgan Butler, Roy Benjamin of the Rotary club, W. E. Graham of the Knights of Columbus, D. J. Hemlock and Walter G. Caldwell will be the active pallbearers. Hugo Hoeveler, Dr. W. B. Campbell, Thomas Murray, Daniel Kenny and C. J. Roach will act as honorary pallbearers.

The St. Joseph's choir, of which Mr. Hoffman had been a member for several years, will sing. Following the services here the funeral party will go to Stevens Point, his former home.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a vigil at the home Tuesday night, following a short meeting at the clubhouse. The Rotary club abandoned plans for a dinner dance Monday night and held memorial services at noon at the Y. M. C. A.

Hoffman Rites at Waukesha

Body of Former City Treasurer Taken to Stevens Point

Waukesha—Funeral services for B. A. Hoffman, secretary of the local Association of Commerce and active in civic organizations here, were held at 8 a. m. Wednesday at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Msgr. W. G. Miller officiating. Mr. Hoffman died Monday following a short illness.

The city council and Rotary club attended the services in a body and the Knights of Columbus and other organizations were represented in large numbers. Relatives were to leave with the body at noon Wednesday for Stevens Point where a second funeral will be held Thursday and where burial will take place.

The Waukesha editorial offices of The Milwaukee Journal are in Room 8, National Bank bldg., telephone 81. Subscriptions are received by J. B. Christoph, 329 Main st., telephone 797.

HOME PAPER VOICES SORROW AT B. A. HOFFMAN'S DEATH

Stevens Point Daily Journal:—The death of Bernard A. Hoffman, who grew to manhood in Stevens Point, is a sad example of the uncertainty of human life. Mr. Hoffman, although never exceptionally robust, was aggressive, full of ambition and had, up to recently, every prospect of enjoying at least the average span of existence. During his many years of service as a newspaperman, in which he was at times quite closely associated with the present publishers of the Daily Journal, he displayed marked ability and upheld the best traditions of the craft. His death will be keenly regretted, not only by his friends in Stevens Point, but also by scores of newspaper workers throughout the state, among whom he was well known and highly regarded.

Milwaukee Journal - afternoon Milwaukee, Wis. Edition